17 Men Lost In Crash Of Giant Blimp

Navy Begins Salvage Work Off New Jersey

LAKEHURST, N. J. (AP)—The Navy began salvage work today in an effort to raise a giant blimp that buckled in the air and crashed into the sea off the New Jersey coast.

Seventeen men are missing and feared entombed in the gondola of the wrecked airship. Another crewman was killed and three others rescued in the disaster Wednesday.

Threat Of Civil War In Italy

Rioting Leftists Demonstrating In Italian Capital

ROME (AP)—Italy's rioting leftist leadership today threatened to plunge the nation into civil war.

The threat came as police in this ancient capital braced for more Communist vs. Fascist trouble after a wild night of rioting in the streets and fistfights in Parliament.

In the worst week of disorders since early postwar days, nearly 500 leftist demonstrators have been injured in fighting from Genoa down to Sicily. More than 200 police have been hurt—135 of them in Rome Wednesday night.

Sen. Emilio Lussu, a pro-Communist Socialist leader, told a tumultuous Senate session that if Premier Fernando Tamburini's Christian Democrat government does not resign it will turn into "a government of civil war."

But Gaspare Pignatelli, a Christian Democrat, replying to Communist charges of police brutality, shouted defiantly: "Clubs are not enough. Tanks are needed."

Request Bids For Highway Improvement

The Missouri State Highway Commission this week issued a request for bids, July 28, on an estimated $7½-million in construction or improvements on 29½ miles of the state's highways in 48 counties.

The call includes 209.2 miles of Interstate, Primary and Urban system work estimated at $5½-million and 89.3 miles Secondary (farm to market) system projects estimated at $2 million.

Projects in this area include: About 8.3 miles widening to 24-feet and asphaltic concrete resurfacing on U.S. Route 50, in Johnson and Pettis Counties, from east of Warrensburg easterly, through Monserrat, to LaMonte. About 6½ miles are in Johnson county and 1.8 miles in Pettis County.

About 17½ miles widening to 24-feet and asphaltic concrete resurfacing on Missouri Route 13, in Lafayette County. One section of the work is from the Route 13 spur, near Higginsville, southerly for 7½ miles and the other portion of the project is from the Route 13 spur, near Higginsville, northwesterly for 10 miles.

About 1.4 miles widening to 24-feet and asphaltic concrete resurfacing on the Missouri Route 13 spur, in Lafayette County, from 11th Street, in Higginsville, northwesterly and westerly.

Benton County: Route AC-2½ miles grading and surfacing from U.S. Route 65, about two miles south of Lincoln, westerly to a county road junction.

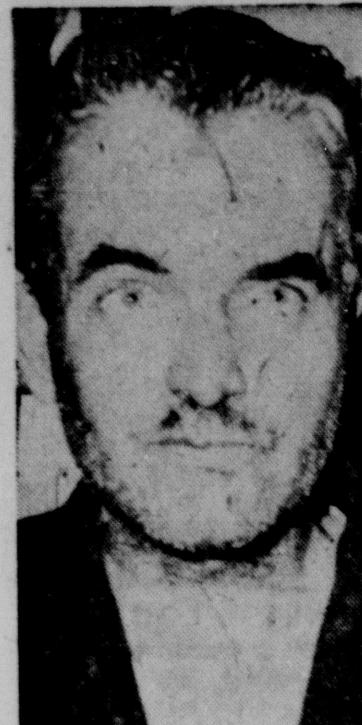

Morgan County: Route T-3½ miles grading, bridging and surfacing from the junction of Missouri Route 135 and Route Z, about five miles south of Stover, northwesterly. Includes a 102-foot precast concrete slab bridge over Gravois Creek.

Three years ago he started developing his own kit for flyers, hikers or skiers. He made the test, his wife said, "because he didn't want to sell someone his kit and then have them die in the wilderness because it wasn't the right thing."

Lindblad took only the kit with him, no sleeping bag. But he has a parka. The kit has food concentrates and a booklet that tells you how to go about living in the wilds—after you pull yourself out of the lake.

To Open Bond Bids At School Tonight

The Sedalia Board of Education is scheduled to open bids tonight on the sale of $1,665,000 building bonds. The bids are to be opened by the board at a meeting in the office of the superintendent at Smith-Cotton High School beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Castro Rages Over Sugar Cuts by US

Calls for Other Nations to Rally Behind His Fight

HAVANA (AP)—The U.S. cut in imports of Cuban sugar sent Fidel Castro into a boiling rage today, but the wild-eyed Prime Minister did not disclose immediately what American property he intends to seize next in retaliation.

Fuming with anger, Castro appealed to other Latin-American nations to rally behind his "fight against American Oligarchy." He told a workers' meeting the cutbacks ordered by President Eisenhower would not halt his left-leaning revolution and charged Eisenhower acted in a "moment of hate, degradation, insanity and stupidity."

A giant labor rally has been called for Sunday in the vast plaza before the presidential palace in Havana to demonstrate "the Cuban peoples' unity in the face of Yankee aggression." Castro is expected to use his mass meeting to dramatize his announcement of how he intends to strike back at the United States with his new power to seize any American property in the "national interest."

Castro appeared at a post-midnight closing session of the Metalurgical Workers' Congress only a few hours after Eisenhower had slashed 700,000 tons off Cuba's sugar quota.

In a hoarse voice, Castro declared "Cuba will show the rest of the exploited Latin-American people that Cuba can march alone—that it is possible to march ahead without you (the United States)."

He asserted the United States would gain nothing by cutting Cuba's sugar quota to "ingratiate" herself with other countries.

"At the same time you take away Cuba's quota to give to someone else," Castro declared, "you are telling them that you want them enslaved and that when they want to be free and defend their interests, you'll take the quota away from them as you did with Cuba."

Castro again accused the United States of being an "accomplice" and "profiteer" on the side of Dictator Fulgencio Batista during Castro's revolution to overthrow the former president.

The resignation becomes effective Monday, July 11.

Couts, recently defeated in his bid for chief of police, has been a member of the police department for four and one-half years. He was assistant chief two years.

Couts said he harbors no ill feelings toward the force and its men. He said, in a separate letter to the department, as a whole that in his opinion it was a "good department, staffed by good, sincere and hard-working men."

However, he said, he could not work under conditions which prevail there. He said a man did not know from one day to the next whether he still held his job.

When asked if he would seek the police chief's post in the 1962 election, Couts said he would not. Couts bought a third interest in Kenny's Cafe, East Fifth Street, and said he hoped to make his business good enough to stay there.

There are several rumors circulating in and about city hall as to Couts' successor, but Chief Hamlin said late Wednesday night that no man has been picked to take the assistant's post.

At the present time, Sgt. Jim Clifford has taken the responsibility.

No Help

One might think Castro's "boiling rage" would make the nights a bit warmer but so far no help.

Generally fair Thursday night becoming partly cloudy Friday; little change in temperature; low Thursday night 62; high Friday 68.

The temperature Thursday was 65 at 7 a.m. and 80 at 1 p.m. Low Wednesday night was 57.

The temperature one year ago was high 92; low 69; two years ago, high 76; low 64; three years ago, high 94; low 72.

Lake of Ozarks stage: 58.4 feet; 1.6 below full reservoir; no change.

Increase In Cattle Valuation Ordered

The Missouri State Tax Commission today ordered county clerk Jim Green to increase the assessed valuation of all neat cattle in Pettis County by five per cent.

Couts Quits As Assistant Police Chief

The order, entered in Jefferson City July 6, was received at the office of the Pettis County Clerk Thursday morning. The order is effective immediately. Other evaluations as submitted by the office of the Pettis County Tax Assessor, remained the same as submitted.

County Assessor Jerry Trotter said he had assessed all neat cattle at an average of $33 per head, but the State Tax Commission, apparently unsatisfied with the evaluation, increased the average evaluation to about $36 per head.

In explaining that he does not see why the commission took action from the police department because of what he termed "circumstances of insecurity" in the department.

The resignation becomes effective Monday, July 11.

Couts, recently defeated in his bid for chief of police, has been a member of the police department for four and one-half years. He was assistant chief two years.

Castro Enraged At US

US to Follow Up Sugar Cutbacks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is considering new moves against the Castro government of Cuba to follow up the costly cutbacks ordered by President Eisenhower in Cuban sugar sales to this country.

Eisenhower decreed late Wednesday a reduction of 700,000 tons in the Cuban sugar quota, thereby almost eliminating it for the rest of this year. The estimated loss to Cuba in U.S. sugar subsidy is around 35 million dollars.

Actually, sugar authorities said, the cut amounts to 856,000 tons, because the law under which Eisenhower acted also takes from Cuba a 156,000-ton extra quota Cuba would have gotten under the old law.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson was ordered to buy sugar from other sources to make up the deficit. Officials said there are now ample supplies of raw sugar available for purchase, especially in Brazil and the Philippines, and neither a shortage nor an increase in price here is expected.

Eisenhower said the government of Prime Minister Fidel Castro "has embarked upon a deliberate policy of hostility toward the United States." He declared this made Cuba an unreliable supplier of a major food product especially with Cuba committing "increasing amounts of its sugar crop to trade with the Communist bloc."

While the reason thus stated for his action was primarily economic—that is, the uncertainty of the U.S. sugar supply from Cuba—the effect of reducing the sales quota is the same as if the action had been taken for political reasons.

The significance of the stated cause is that to take such action for a political purpose would constitute an economic sanction which by treaty the United States can take only upon agreement with other American countries.

Such sanctions, however, are now considered entirely possible assuming that, as authorities here expect, Castro continues to follow a course of increasing hostility toward neighboring states.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Dorothy Stelling, Paul Stoermer

Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Cole Camp, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Dorothy Stelling, Mora, and Paul Stoermer, Cole Camp, Sunday evening, June 19, at half past six o'clock. The Rev. Albert J. F. Meier performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with mixed bouquets of pastel colored flowers and two seven-branch candelabra holding burning tapers on either side.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Stelling, Mora, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stoermer, Cole Camp. The organist, Eric Heimsoth, Cole Camp, played "Let Us Ever Walk With Jesus" and the wedding marches. "O Perfect Love" was sung by Mrs. John Fadler, Cole Camp, and the congregation sang "Lord, Who at Cana's Wedding Feast."

Candles were lighted by Delores Stelling, sister of the bride, and Margaret Stoermer, sister of the groom. They wore street length dresses of pink organdy over taffeta featuring a fitted bodice with square neckline and bouffant skirts. They wore headpieces of gathered net over taffeta with a band of flowers in the center. Peppermint carnations made up their corsages.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length dress of white acetate nylon lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice was styled with scoop neckline trimmed with beads and had elbow length sleeves. The very full skirt was accented with a bow of sheer nylon. Her elbow length veil of nylon net was fastened to a band of orange blossoms.

A sister of the bride, Miss Lillie Stelling, was maid of honor. Her street length dress of turquoise organdy over taffeta had a fitted bodice with square neck and a full skirt. Her tur-

Jawge Rogahs Brings Loot For Adlai

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A re-sounding voice flecked with accents of Georgia tore through the din at Adlai E. Stevenson's campaign headquarters.

"Who all heah wants to take Jawge Rogahs' money?" the voice asked. "Ah've got $500 heah from neighbors and jes' plain folks back in Marietta, Jawjut. And we all want to put up a Dixieland band to greet Stevenson."

After some brief confusion, an aide gratefully took the money from George Rogers, a businessman from Marietta, Ga. He promised Rogers that the hottest Dixieland band $500 can buy will greet Stevenson at the airport.

Rogers is typical of the Stevenson enthusiasts who, campaign aides say, have come from all over the nation to help out at campaign headquarters.

But the Stevenson people concede they still face a lot of puzzled people who ask: "How can you nominate a man who says he isn't even a candidate?"

Smashing Record Was OK, But His Knee Is Stiff

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A tall, rangy man with a pair of twinkling eyes sighed with relief as his attractive wife placed a hot compress on his stiff knee.

"I'm not a bit tired—right now," said Max Conrad, a 56-year-old grandfather with a disdain for flying records. "But I wish I could get my right knee to straighten out."

Conrad's flip remark, spoken in the shy manner that has stayed with him through years of flying fame, came as the lanky Winona, Minn., man pulled himself from his Piper Comanche plane after smashing the closed-circuit record for light planes.

Conrad more than doubled the mark set last year by Jire Kunc, a Czech, in flying 6,920 miles from here to Chicago and Des Moines, Iowa, eight times and still had gasoline left for another 500 miles he said.

He landed at Wold Chamberlain airport at 7:38 Wednesday night after 60 hours and 10 minutes without sleep. Kunc's mark was 3,063 miles.

Conrad, who has crossed the Atlantic by light plane 50 times and holds two transatlantic records, embraced his attractive wife, Betty, and then retired to a hotel. There she nursed the stiff knee and they talked about their family—10 children and three grandchildren.

Today was Max Conrad Day in Minnesota, as proclaimed at the airport by Gov. Orville Freeman. Conrad said he planned to take it easy for a couple of days, then fly to California for several speaking engagements.

She had this explanation for her longevity:

"When I was a child I swallowed a watch key," she said. "I guess that's what has kept me wound up and ticking all these years."

Man Walks Away After 170-foot Plunge Off California Cliff

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Everett J. Wong, 36, accidentally drove his car off a 170 foot cliff Wednesday and walked away from the wreckage.

"He should have been dead. That car of his was demolished," said Highway Patrolman Phillip A. Wolfe.

Wong, of San Francisco, said he became confused while driving near the Devil's Slide area on the coast. His car went over the embankment and down the cliff before crashing on rocks near the shore. He suffered only minor cuts.

Las Vegas By-passed As a Convention Site

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — It isn't that he doesn't like Nevada, but Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell opposes a convention in Las Vegas because of the resort-type atmosphere.

Nevada delegates to last week's annual convention of the International Assn. of Personnel in Employment Security (LAPES) in Colorado Springs said Mitchell aides blocked Las Vegas as the site of the 1962 convention. Des Moines, Iowa, was chosen instead.

"That's completely factual," said the Nevada employment director, Richard Ham. "They used intimidation and coercion against Nevada, even through the majority of delegates had favored Las Vegas."

In Washington, a Mitchell spokesman denied the southern Nevada gaming center was called "a den in iniquity," as Ham charged, but said it was felt more work could be accomplished elsewhere. Mitchell confirmed this in Houston, Tex., Wednesday night.

We Sing the Song Of The Sewer--for Cash

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Patrolman George Quire couldn't believe his eyes but there was a man coming out of a sewer.

His clothing was wet and covered with muck. His pockets bulged with muddy coins. David E. Robbins, 34, hastily told the startled patrolman:

"I'm just hunting for money. You'd be surprised how much money you can find in the sewers."

Robbins said four years ago he saw workers finding money as they cleaned a sewer and since then he has been treasure hunting beneath the city.

"Sometimes," he said, "you find rare old coins worth good money and pieces of jewelry."

Either Test Is Too Difficult, Or...

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO —

This industrial center wants a police chief the worst way—and apparently competitive examination is the worst way.

Four sergeants took a written test last August to determine a successor to Louis Belloni, retiring after 36 years. Everyone flunked.

A new test was given last week to the same four men and an added starter, a former sergeant now running a filling station. Again, everyone flunked.

Mayor Andrew Rocca and the city council now are pondering a third examination—with a much wider field.

Kennedy Vacation Is Almost Over; Will Go to LA This Week

HYANNISPORT, Mass. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts plans to leave Cape Cod for Los Angeles and the Democratic National Convention either Friday or Saturday.

The senator, front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination, has been vacationing here since last Saturday, except for a quick trip to New York Monday for his televised reply to former President Harry S. Truman and another flight to New York Wednesday.

Kennedy has been golfing, swimming and sailing on Nantucket Sound. Stephen Smith, his brother-in-law and golfing partner, said the program will be much the same for the rest of the week.

Ike, Mamie
To Newport
For Vacation

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower travels to Newport, R. I., today for an extended vacation of golf which could be clouded by troubles with Cuba. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower arranged a midafternoon departure by jet airline from Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland.

It's about an hour's flight to the Naval Air Station at Quonset Point, R. I., across Narragansett Bay from Newport. From the air station the Eisenhowers will go either by helicopter or by presidential cabin cruiser, the Barbara Anne, to old Ft. Adams, part of the Newport Naval Base. The Summer White House — occupied by Eisenhower and his wife in 1958 — is at Ft. Adams. Close by the Newport Country Club golf course.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower also vacationed at Newport in 1957. That year their residence was at the naval base proper on Coasters Harbor Island. Eisenhower's office is on the island this year as it was in 1957-58. The President is planning at least a month's stay at Newport, until after the Democratic and Republican presidential nomination conventions.

But aides report that Eisenhower will be keeping his fingers crossed because of mounting troubles with Cuba's Fidel Castro regime.

There always is a possibility that other developments, international or domestic, may blight the presidential vacation. But at the moment Eisenhower's greatest concern reportedly is the situation in Cuba.

Late Wednesday the President will deliberate the Castro government of Cuba's hostility toward the United States, and cut Cuban sugar imports 700,000 tons under the original 1960 quota. That action comes close to shutting off the flow of Cuban sugar to this country during the remainder of the year.

Anticipating the President's move, Castro's cabinet earlier in the day had authorized retaliatory seizure of all U.S. property in Cuba.

In addition to the regular run of routine government business, the President is taking to Newport for action bills which Congress sent to him in the closing days of the session which adjourned last Sunday morning for the political conventions.

The Senate is scheduled to re-open Aug. 8, the House Aug. 15.

The President will interrupt his Newport stay July 26 to fly to Chicago for an address that evening at the Republican National Convention. He also will attend a convention breakfast the next morning.

Bandit Admits

NEW YORK (AP) — Police say Gerlad P. Zarkin, 24, nabbed Wednesday had admitted robbing 30 candy stores in the past two months. Police had coined the tag "Bonbon Bandit" to describe the man they were looking for.

Mr. Kullman was born March 22, 1930, at Lincoln, the son of Ernest John and Emma C. Meyer Kullman. He was married to Mildred Priesmeyer on Nov. 26, 1950.

Surviving are his wife, two daughters, Judith Lee and Catherine Lynn, and one son, Jeffery Lee, all of the home; two sisters, Mrs. Kenneth Wallen, Sedalia and Mrs. Robert Fowler, Cole Camp, and three brothers, Earl Kullman, Kansas City, Roland Kullman, Sullivan and Robert Kullman, Cole Camp.

POPULATION, U.S.A. — Early returns from the Census Bureau indicate there are at least 26.5 million more of us living in the United States than in 1950. Preliminary figures put the population at 177,733,190, a gain of 17.5 per cent since the last census. That this is becoming a nation of suburbanites is shown in News-Graphic above, for suburbs leaped by over 17 million persons, a growth of 47.2 per cent. Of 225 central cities in the metropolitan areas, 153 gained population and 72 lost, including most of the nation's largest cities. But the average gain was 8.2 per cent. Growth in rural or nonurban areas also lagged behind suburban growth.

Court of Appeals
Affirms Case
Of Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals today affirmed the contempt of Congress conviction of Alden Whitman, a copyreader on the New York Times, who refused to identify sometime fellow Communists for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

Whitman appeared before the subcommittee in January 1956.

He acknowledged he had been a member of the party from about 1935 to about 1948, prior to his employment on the New York Times.

In refusing to identify others who had been members of the party, Whitman contended his private affairs, beliefs and associations were not proper subjects for investigation by the subcommittee.

Whitman was convicted in U.S. District Court and received a suspended sentence of six months in jail and a fine of $500.

In his appeal he contended, among other things, that the subcommittee's inquiry was devoted to investigating the New York Times, thus invaded the field of freedom of press.

Third National Bank to Hold
An Open House

The officers, directors and employees of the Third National Bank are holding open house Saturday, July 9, from 1:30-5:30 p.m., to announce the formal opening of the completely remodeled bank building.

Remodeling was recently completed, and the building has taken on an entirely new appearance.

Throughout its two stories colors of pale green and light beige have been effectively combined in the decorating scheme. Arrangements and furnishings are new, including three chandeliers of brass, each with ten reflector lights on the outside and one in the center.

Indirect fluorescent lighting provides additional illumination. Private coupon and conference rooms have also been added. The building is air conditioned throughout.

For 77 years the Third National has served the people of Sedalia and surrounding communities. Its total assets were $291,394.42 when it opened Dec. 31, 1883, and on June 15, 1960, its assets had grown to $13,350,204.94.

Employees will be stationed throughout the building Saturday afternoon to explain the bank's various operations. There will be registration and drawing for a ladies 21-jewel wrist watch. The winner will be notified in case he is not present for the drawing. Handsome souvenirs will be given to all visitors.

Teeners Blame Old Folks For Their Early Dating

By EUGENE GILBERT
This being the season of the summer romance, we hasten to give you a report on what young people think about the well-known trend towards earlier dating.

First off, we can state that there's no argument about the trend itself. The 900 and more teen-agers that we talked to agreed overwhelmingly that their generation does start dating earlier than a generation ago.

In general, they felt that this affected scholarship, but not discipline or student health.

Like their teachers, to whom we put similar inquiries not long ago, the youngsters were inclined to blame modern society in general for encouraging early dating through school and youth club activities and what one boy termed "community togetherness." Even more than the teachers, they were inclined to point a finger at the easy accessibility of the family car on date nights.

"I date earlier than my brother did because I learned to drive

Mom and Dad Blamed

Parental emphasis on dancing lessons, acquiring social graces, establishing status in the community by joining the local teenage social whirl and similar evidences of coaxing by Mom and Dad were cited as contributing factors to the early dating trend.

"They're having parties now for kids in the 5th and 6th grades, with dancing and late hours at our school," said 15-year-old Betty Staton of Lynchburg, Va.

Ellen Hassler, 17, of Charleston, Ill., blamed the "rise of the junior high school" for giving the youngsters of her generation a feeling of earlier maturity.

Others echoed Ann Bradley, 17, of Mattoon, Ill., who noted that "both school and the town promote this premature dating habit by sponsoring so many co-educational activities like youth centers and town dances."

"I date earlier than my brother did because I learned to drive younger than he did," explained Jerry DeBoer of LeMars, Iowa.

Some, like 17-year-old Howard Goldstein of New York City, thought "increased emphasis on sex in movies, books and television" was responsible, while others, like 17-year-old Michael Pleva of Hartford, Conn., said "kids today have too much money and too easy a time getting a car to go on a date."

These youngsters interviewed were much more emphatic than the teachers in labeling early dating a deterrent to scholarship, but joined them in thinking that dating habits had little effect on school discipline or student health, although even here the teen-agers racked up higher percentages than their teachers.

Jealousy A Problem

For instance, 56 per cent of the youngsters felt early dating had an adverse effect on scholarship, compared with only 45 per cent of the teachers, and 46 per cent of the youngsters felt it had an adverse effect on discipline, compared with only 35 per cent of the teachers. Boys (63 per cent) were much more worried about the effects of dating on studies than the girls (49 per cent).

Those who admitted to going steady agreed with their teachers that certain problems inevitably will result. But where the teachers were concerned about such things as pregnancy, early marriage and fist fights in the school yard, the kids were faced with such problems as jealous love, finding the right steady and unloading the wrong steady.

"The big problem is how to get rid of a steady that you don't want to go steady with anymore," answered 17-year-old Stephanie Sahmberg of New Orleans.

An entertainment committee has lined up trips to television and movie studios, tours of movie stars' homes, a beauty contest, a special day (July 9) at Hollywood Park race track, and a Monet art exhibition (no admission charge).

Aside from getting sufficient hotel space, the biggest problem for the hosts is transportation. Los Angeles literally is a city on wheels, most of them attached to private cars.

There are only 90 taxi licenses in Los Angeles, compared with 11,780 in New York and 3,740 in Chicago.

But in Los Angeles, there's one car for every 2.2 persons (the record for a major city), compared with 1 per 3.5 in Chicago and 1 per 6.1 in New York.

To cope with the problem, the Democrats have reserved up to 400 charter buses to take delegates from hotels to convention

Delegation Subs Will Be Chosen At LA Caucus

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Gov. James T. Blair says Missouri's delegation to the Democratic National Convention probably will select substitutes for Harry S. Truman and Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. at a caucus in Los Angeles Sunday afternoon.

The Missouri governor, who heads the delegation, stopped in Kansas City Wednesday night en route to the West Coast.

Sen. Hennings advised Blair he was forbidden by his doctors to make the trip to Los Angeles. The senator has been confined to his apartment in Washington since he underwent major stomach surgery at the Mayo Clinic several weeks ago.

Truman resigned as a delegate Saturday, saying he did not want to be a party to an affair pre-arranged in favor of Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Wilbur F. Daniels of Fayette, Democratic state chairman, headed west with Blair. They planned to do some campaigning for Sen. Stuart Symington from the delegation's headquarters at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles.

The Missourians are pledged to vote for Symington for the presidential nomination until the Missouri senator releases them or a majority decides he no longer has a chance.

Those who admitted to going steady agreed with their teachers that certain problems inevitably will result. But where the teachers were concerned about such things as pregnancy, early marriage and fist fights in the school yard, the kids were faced with such problems as jealous love, finding the right steady and unloading the wrong steady.

"The big problem is how to get rid of a steady that you don't want to go steady with anymore," answered 17-year-old Stephanie Sahmberg of New Orleans.

"Jealousy is a problem," conceded 15-year-old Harry Gilliam of Quincy, Ill. "You can't even look at another girl without your steady getting mad."

Added 17-year-old Yvonne Bragg of Charlottesville, Va., "when you break up with a steady, it's hard to get back in the social whirl. You've kind of lost touch."

Of the entire group interviewed (both those going steady and those playing the field), 45 per cent thought the habit was bad for their set, 17 per cent thought it good and 38 per cent hadn't made up their minds.

The annexation is being contested in circuit court.

Long after it would do Mozart any good, it brought in many times the amount he had begged for in the letter.

Labor Leaders Line Up for Shots at Hull

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Labor leaders lined up a potshot at William R. Hull Jr., northwest Missouri's Democratic congressman, at a meeting in St. Joseph Wednesday night.

The 6th District Committee on Political Education (COPE) voted to publish and circulate a pamphlet contrasting Hull's votes with those of five other members of Congress—Sens. Stuart Symington and Thomas C. Hennings Jr. of Missouri, Rep. Richard Bolling of Kansas City, Rep. William J. Randall of Independence and Rep. Newell A. George of Kansas City, Kan.

All are Democrats considered friendly to labor. Frank R. Smith of St. Joseph, district chairman for COPE, said Hull was on the opposing side 10 times in 1959 and 1960 on bills which labor considers of major importance.

Man from Felicity Must Spread Same at Convention

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The charges will: munch 55,000 hot dogs 25,000 sandwiches, 3,000 ice cream bars, 16,000 candy bars, 6,000 bags of popcorn and 4,500 bags of peanuts and sip 120,000 soft drinks and 50,000 cups of coffee.

Glenn Wilson, a Los Angeles executive, heads the various Democratic committees charged with promoting a continuous state of felicity at the convention, which opens July 11 in the Sports Arena. The committees are manned by California Democrats anxious to give their state a reputation as a good host. Consequently, the delegates will be lavishly wined, dined and lined with token gifts to remind them of California.

Convention Will Haunt TV Viewers

NEW YORK (AP)—Convention, convention, convention.

That's about the substance of television network programming activity next week as cameras turn to the big conclave at Los Angeles where the Democrats will pick their 1960 presidential candidate.

There's some non-political viewing to wind up this week.

NBC screens the second show in its "Moment of Fear" series, with Larry Blyden starring in "Conjure Wife," the story of a woman who is a witch (10 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time).

While ABC and NBC both turn to convention matters Saturday, CBS will be at Miami Beach, Fla., concentrating on beauties from all over the world. The "Miss Universe Beauty Pageant" gets underway at 10:30 and concludes at midnight.

NBC telecasts the All Star baseball games Monday (2:45 p.m.) from Kansas City and Wednesday (2:45 p.m., color) from New York.

Pre-convention coverage includes a Sunday lineup with Paul Butler on ABC's "College News Conference" (1 p.m.); Senators Kennedy, Johnson and Symington on NBC's "Meet the Press" (6 p.m., 1 hour); the same trio on ABC's "Convention Preview" (6 p.m.); Adlai E. Stevenson on CBS's "Face the Nation" (5:30 p.m.) and then CBS's convention preview (6 p.m.)

Beginning Monday, all three networks will be using prime evening time for convention coverage. The mentors, or anchor men, are John Daly (ABC), Walter Cronkite (CBS) and Chet Huntley and David Brinkley (NBC). Shows will begin at 6 p.m. or 7 p.m. and continue until the conclusion of the convention meeting each day.

Republic School Bond Fails for Sixth Time

REPUBLIC, Mo. (AP)—A $35,000 bond proposal for a new high school failed to get a two-thirds majority and was defeated in Tuesday's special election.

It was the sixth defeat of the proposal in little over a year.

The vote was 987 in favor and 631 against it.

Aurora Tax Drops

AURORA, Mo. (AP)—Aurora's City Council reduced the 1960 municipal tax levy by 11 cents, to $2.19 on each $100 of assessed valuation.

Mayor Finis King said Wednesday an increase in valuations made it possible to reduce the levy. He declared the reduction would have been 21 cents if the property involved in an annexation fight could have been put on the 1960 tax books.

The entire group interviewed (both those going steady and those playing the field), 45 per cent thought the habit was bad for their set, 17 per cent thought it good and 38 per cent hadn't made up their minds.

The annexation is being contested in circuit court.

Rigidity Begets Rigidity

Flexibility is the heart of human dealing, especially in politics. That's why politics often is called the art of compromise. But when you're dealing with the Russians terms like these can lose some of their usual significance.

It is obvious to all of us that give and take has to be a two-sided affair. Yet we know very well that the greatest part of the time the Russians give nothing.

By common definition, they are rigid. They usually yield in a particular area of controversy only when the issues at stake are no longer of paramount importance to them, and they see a propaganda victory to be gained by yielding.

Thus there can be no ordinary "flexibility" in dealing with the Kremlin. For when flexibility is placed opposite an almost continuous rigidity, the result can only be a series of surrenders.

Rigidity unfortunately begets rigidity. When a man is at your door with a gun, you are not likely to save your valuables by inviting him in to talk it over at dinner. You flash your gun and bark the threats that will hold him off.

Many will argue that since someone must relax his rigid posture if the world is to be saved from ruin, why should it not be us?

Certainly we have a duty to keep steadily alert so we shall not overlook one single opportunity for legitimate give and take with the Soviet Union.

It is our responsibility, too, to throw into the international political market fresh, imaginative ideas and programs. We may always hope that some of these will catch on, will draw behind them the force of world opinion, and exert heavy pressure upon the Russians.

But it is not our duty to be flexible just for the sake of being flexible. Rigidity—firmness is a less emotionally toned word—can be a virtue if it is the course of policy and action necessary to the preservation of our liberty and well-being.

What we need is not to be captivated by persuasive terms but to be full intent upon all the realities with the Russians and everybody else—including at the moment Castro and his indoctrinated Cuban communists.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Election Precedents Could Be Broken

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—If either of the two top Democratic candidates, Sens. Lyndon Johnson or Jack Kennedy, be elected president one of two historic precedents would be broken. Kennedy would break the precedent that no Catholic may serve in the White House. Johnson would break the 100-year-old precedent that no southerner may serve in the White House.

These two precedents are probably the major political handicaps facing both men. For despite all the public protestation that there is no religious bigotry in the United States, the real fact is that there is.

Much more open and public is the opposition to a southerner running for President usually expressed on the ground that he would lose the Negro and northern liberal vote.

In my opinion—and I have known both candidates as long as they have been in Congress—each would lean over backward to be fair to all segments of the population. Johnson, in my opinion, would give the Negroes a better break than any previous president, partly because he comes from the south.

And Kennedy would make sure that he did not favor his own church or its members. Let's examine the record on Kennedy and, in a subsequent column, that of Johnson.

The Catholic Lobby

Some Catholics deny there is a Catholic lobby in Washington. But there is. Most church groups do operate lobbies and have a right to as long as there's nothing secret about it. As far as I know, the church of Vice President Nixon (and mine), the Quakers, is the only faith which registers under the lobbying act.

The Methodist board of temperance used to be quite active in lobbying; while various Catholic groups are both active and powerful today. They have called on the only Catholic member of the Supreme Court, Justice William Brennan who, however, has scrupulously voted his own convictions, not those of his church. And they have been both active and successful in influencing the No. 2 member of the House of Representatives, John McCormack of Boston, Democrat, who at one time last year helped sidetrack the aid-to-education bill and has vigorously opposed any aid for teachers' salaries—a stand taken by the hierarchy of his church.

Another frank torchbearer for the so-called Catholic lobby is Congressman John J. Rooney of Brooklyn who for the past two years has loyally inserted a $50,000,000 appropriation for Spain in the appropriations bill on top of other Spanish military aid.

Lobbying for Spain has been one of the most consistent and successful objectives of certain Catholic clerics over a period of years. And some congressmen have turned complete somersaults as a result of Catholic pressure.

When 60 members of Congress sent a telegram of congratulations to the loyalist Cortes in its opposition to Franco, the congressmen were so vigorously condemned by Catholic leaders that all but 17 retracted. When Msgr. Michael J. Ready of the National Catholic Welfare Conference described the telegram as "incredible," even Congressman Usher Burdick, father of the newly elected senator from North Dakota, meekly announced that he had made "a serious mistake" in signing the telegram.

Kennedy Resisted the Lobby

Sen. John Kennedy's record of late has been the opposite. Though he was soft on Sen. Joe McCarthy, and though his father counseled with and contributed to Cardinal Spellman and McCarthy, young Kennedy has been strong in resisting Catholic pressure.

Guest Editorial

NEW YORK DAILY NEWS: Free Time for Candidates? — A bill which at first glance looks praiseworthy, public-spirited and all that is being discussed before a Senate Commerce subcommittee. If enacted, it would require the three television networks to give eight hours of prime evening time during the Presidential campaign to the major parties' candidates.

Such a "great debate" would be interesting and desirable. But the proposal that Congress make it compulsory seems dangerous to us.

For one thing, it looks like a government grab of property without due process of law. For another, it looks like the proverbial camel's nose inserted in the tent, with the whole camel—meaning government dictation of TV and radio programs, followed by government supervision of newspaper contents—eventually inching himself into the tent and crowding poor old Miss American Liberty out.

Only Man to Use Meat Cleaver So Far

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The only big Democrat to use a cleaver so far in his party's presidential race is former President Truman who was never renowned for subtlety.

Already he's beginning to look deserted and lonely. The only other weapons used up till now have been velvet sandbags.

Truman last week tried to chop Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential chances to bits by implying the Massachusetts senator's supporters were rigging the Democratic National Convention which opens next week.

It was a sensation for a moment but began to resemble a frustrated whisper as one after another of the top Democrats sought to disentangle themselves from any connection with Truman's charges.

Florida's Gov. LeRoy Collins, convention chairman, denied any rigging. Paul M. Butler, in charge of convention arrangements for the Massachusetts senator's supporters, was rigging the Democratic National Convention which opens next week.

But for lack of support Truman's attack on Kennedy began to look like a pale rider on a pale horse. By the time Johnson got around to announcing two days later he was a candidate, he had no complaint to make.

He was asked that day if he was going to cite a single instance of rigging—this was the lanky Texan's big chance both to back up Truman and to help demolish Kennedy by citing some evidence of a fix, if he had one.

But Johnson's answer was no.

All three contenders—Kennedy, Johnson, Symington—have been rigging." He said to the best of his knowledge his people had been treated fairly on convention arrangements.

This left it up to Johnson to own his charges. Johnson, never a simple man, seemed to be on Truman's side and suddenly he didn't seem to be.

The day after Truman had his say on Kennedy, Johnson leaped in on Truman's side, saying he agreed with the former president and accusing Butler of failing to consult him on convention arrangements. At that time, Johnson had not yet publicly admitted he was even a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

That's just how some of Johnson's top aides took it and responded at once with a look who's that kind of complaint. They said Kennedy hadn't always been so healthily bouncy.

Whether or not they did this with Johnson's approval is not known. The Johnson forces might be able to damage Kennedy if his aides attacked him while Johnson remained a symbol of sweetness and light.

At any rate, when Johnson finally announced his candidacy he not only didn't raise any questions about Kennedy's health but went so far as to say Kennedy had demonstrated he didn't have any health problems.

The Doctor Says

Good Example May Help Check Needless Deaths

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

Like too many communities in our fair land, we have an automobile graveyard on one of our principal highways.

Almost every time I drive by, or so it seems to me, there's another wrecked car in the driveway.

And, though I never stop to inquire, I'm pretty sure that each wrecked car stands for the maiming, if not the death, of a human being.

Why is it, I wonder, that so many of us hold life so cheap? Last year 91,500 of us were killed by accident in the continental United States. Of these fatalities, 37,500 were vehicular, 13,000 were industrial and 27,000 occurred in the home.

Add to these the uncounted number of nonfatal accidents that must have occurred to each one in which there was actual loss of life, and you get some idea of the dreadful toll of what is, in great part, a careless and thoughtless disregard for the sanctity of human life. A disregard of "the reverence for life," to use the words of the saintly Dr. Albert Schweitzer.

Even more appalling is the loss of life due to deliberate self-destruction. Addressing the National Association for Mental Health recently, Dr. Joseph Hirsh placed at 50 to 60 thousand the number of Americans who die by suicide each year.

He also expressed the opinion that, for each successful suicide attempt, there were no fewer than five, and perhaps as many as 60, unsuccessful trials.

Although many public agencies address themselves to the humanitarian task of reducing the numbers of these accidental and suicidal deaths, I incline to the belief that individual efforts score greater accomplishments.

In all probability, the boy whose father is a careful driver is apt to follow the example he's become familiar with all of his life.

The girl whose mother is an orderly housewife is apt to run her own home in an equally orderly fashion.

And the recently employed worker is apt to heed the safety regulations of his shop or industry if he sees these regulations honored by his seniors.

Much, too, can be done to prevent suicidal attempts. In Dr. Hirsh's study, he noted an increased incidence of attempts at self-destruction on dull days in the fall and winter, during prolonged hot spells in the summer and following recent marital separation or divorce.

The incidence was also notably higher in persons who lacked any formal religious affiliation.

Alerted by these observations and recognizing the emotional effects of purely personal conditions, the considerate friend, relative, clergyman or physician may provide just the right word, deed or counsel to tide the depressed person over a period of climax.

Surely we who dwell in this free and prosperous land cannot look with indifference on an annual holocaust of 150,000 or more accidental and suicidal deaths.

Four Separate News Stories Point Moral for Our Times

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON—At first glance you might not see any connection between four unrelated dispatches in one week's news. They concern:

Judge Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), chairman of the House Rules Committee which has so far prevented Congressional action on key legislation which should be passed before adjournment.

Communist-led demonstrators in Tokyo, protesting against ratification of the U.S.-Japan defense treaty.

The November elections, in which what the President and the Congress have done, have not done and should have done will be up for review by the voters.

President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan, a staunch U.S. ally, who nevertheless says American governmental machinery can't make decisions fast enough for this nuclear age.

Yet such is the mishmash of current history that all those happenings are related. And they point a moral.

This is of course an old story to Smith and his cohorts. They've been doing it and getting away with it for years. And they'll be at it till "the rules" are changed.

One would hardly think that Smith had more power than the Japanese mobs that finally forced withdrawal of the invitation to Eisenhower for a Tokyo visit. But such is the case in recent events.

The mobs were only half successful. They did not succeed in forcing the Japanese government to withhold ratification of the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

But Smith and his 11 Rules committee—eight Democrats and four Republicans—without a demonstration of any kind, have the power to withhold from Congressional consideration anything they don't like.

It is power sometimes considered more despotic than the will of a mob. It defeats the will of the majority.

If a majority cannot function in a democracy, the democracy itself fails to function. When a government can't make decisions, it ceases to be a government.

President Mohammed Ayub Khan did not have the U.S. Congress particularly in mind when he expressed his doubts on the effectiveness of American government machinery.

He was thinking more of American foreign aid and foreign policy fumbles. But the shoe the Pakistani president threw fits the U.S. Congress in this situation perfectly.

And the lawmakers might as well put it on, so U.S. voters can judge how they look.

July Underway With Signs Of Being Year's Low Point

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — July is starting with every sign of being the year's low point in industry.

Some think August will see a good recovery. Others say we'll have to wait until September for much of a gain.

The recreation and travel industries will boom this month and the suppliers of gasoline, tires, clothing, food and recreation equipment for hordes of vacationists will flourish.

But in many mills and factories output will be sharply cut—some because of vacation shutdowns of their own, but more because of a drop in incoming orders.

Steelmen fear that the ratio of output to capacity this month may dip into the 40s and average somewhere in the 50s.

The trade publication, Iron Age, says all hopes have faded for setting a record in production this year to top the 117 million tons of 1955. When 1960 started, most steel executives were confidently predicting a record this year of 125 to 130 million tons.

Mills must operate at an average of 70 per cent in the second half of the year if tonnage is to go to 114 million and Iron Age says that 115 million tons is the absolute best that most hope for now.

The poor showing in steel in July—with a mounting number of workers laid off—is due largely to a steep drop in new orders since early spring, while steel users cut back on their stocks.

Adding to July's slowness will be the annual vacations in many steel using industries, who are expected to be back in the market again in August.

Auto companies are beginning to cut off output of 1960 models and the changeover period will be staggered into early fall.

Orders for auto steel are expected to pick up in August. But many other users, such as appliance makers, are holding up orders until a glut of products is sold. One appliance maker (Johnson S. Sayre, chairman of the Norge division of Borg-Warner) looks for the heavy inventory of the home appliance industry to adjust itself within the next 60 to 90 days.

Railroads seem more interested in talking about mergers this month than in ordering steel. And oil men concentrate on how to reduce supplies and let ordering of new steel supplies for exploration hang fire. Home building also is slower than steelmen would like.

Mrs. Meacham is the daughter of Mrs. H. E. Carter Sr., Green Ridge.

Clayton Hunton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hunton, Green Ridge, has returned to his farm home following a ten day trip to Washington, D.C., and New York City, where he attended sessions of the International Affairs Seminar which was held recently.

In New York City, he visited at the Inter-Church Center, attended United Nations sessions and toured the United Nations Building.

Cadet Everett Wayne Bullard, a student at the University of Missouri at Columbia, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bullard, Green Ridge, is taking six weeks of intensive military training at Fort Sill, Okla., at the ROTC summer camp. He is among 600 future artillery officers from 18 colleges and universities receiving instructions.

Trains at Ft. Sill

Cadet Everett W. Bullard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer W. Bullard, Route 2, Green Ridge, is receiving six weeks of training at the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps summer camp at Fort Sill, Okla. The training is scheduled to be concluded July 29.

During this training Cadet Bullard is receiving practical experience and instruction in tactical, technical and administrative subjects, with special emphasis being placed on the duties of a second lieutenant.

He is a 1957 graduate of Green Ridge High School and attended the University of Missouri in Columbia.

East Lowers Boom on West In B-J All-Star Baseball

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP) — The East's tight pitching and quickness to take advantage of enemy bubbles gave it an 8-2 victory over the West Wednesday night in the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League's annual all-star baseball game.

It was the third straight victory for the East.

Gene Henze of Hannibal, Darold Knowles of Moberly and Bunny Brummell of Boonville yielded only four hits to the West and were backed up by flawless fielding.

Alan Hicks of Marshall pulled the West into a 1-1 tie in the third with the game's only homer but the East got all the runs it needed in the next inning.

Jim Way of Hannibal started it with a single. He stole second and got to third on an error. The error and a fielder's choice loaded the bases. Jim Estes of Columbia sent a mean blow toward first and another error let it in two runs.

The East got four more in the seventh on only two hits—singles by Gary Mays of Hannibal and Jim Winscott of Columbia. Interspersed were two stolen bases, two walks, an error, a wild pitch and a passed ball.

Henze was the winning pitcher and the loss was charged to Tom Hightower of Marshall, second of the five pitchers for the West.

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP) — Pete Treble, Lowry City pitcher, received the Joe Imhauser award Wednesday night for having the best earned run average in the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League's 1959 season.

Mrs. Imhauser presented the honor in connection with the league's annual all-star game.

V. W. Minert of Kirksville received a plaque for distinguished service to the league. He retired last year after serving eight years as league president.

Palmer Cocks Wary Eye At Pace-Setters

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Arnold Palmer, bidding for his triple crown, today cocked a wary eye over his shoulder at two pace-setting South Americans. Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., already has won the American Open and Masters. He needs the British title to complete the big three.

All the experts forecast that defending champion Gary Player of South Africa and Peter Thomson, a four-time winner of this championship first played 100 years ago, would be Palmer's biggest rivals.

They may still turn out to be exactly that—but Robert De Vicenzo, an Argentinian playing out of Mexico, and Fidel De Luca of Argentina were the men worrying the American champion as 74 players went into the second round of the 72-hole championship over the Old Course.

The Tigers had him on the ropes four times. Each time he weathered the storm.

The Athletics raked Frank Lary and Clem Labine for 11 hits.

"This is a lucky year for me," said Daley, who won 16 games for the A's last season. "Every time I pitch—almost, anyway—the guys seem to get a lot of runs. The other day I won an 11-10 game, and not long ago I won a 10-6 game."

"I don't know what happens to the hitters other times, but they seem to do all right when I'm pitching."

Manager Bob Elliott had someone throwing in the bullpen practically every inning.

"There were times when I would have taken him out if they got one more solid hit," said Elliott, "but he's a pitcher you have to give a lot of consideration before you take him out. In addition to his ability, he's one of the greatest players I've ever known."

"He played under me in the Pacific Coast League for a while, and I learned about him in a hurry. He's a guy you know is giving you 100 per cent, and more. He fields his position well and he knows the hitters."

The seventh-place Athletics have a 28-45 record, and Elliott won't let himself think where the club might be if the veteran south-paw weren't such a stopper.

Qualifying Rounds Saturday, Sunday For Country Club Meet

Men golfers of the Sedalia Country Club will play qualifying rounds Saturday or Sunday for the annual match play championships.

In addition to the championship place, there will be flights A, B and C.

The low 15 qualifiers will go into the championship race along with Van Van Dyne, defending champion.

The rules of the USGA will apply, and the ball will be played as it lies.

Those entering the tournament are requested to announce their intention of playing in the qualifying rounds to the club professional, Norman Scotten. The qualifying rounds will consist of 18 holes.

Whence It Came

The expression "to make one the goat" comes from the word "scapegoat." Under Biblical law, the sins of the people were placed upon the head of a goat, which then was permitted to escape into the wilderness, thus absolving the people from their wrongdoing.

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP) — Directors of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson Baseball League lowered the boom on its Jefferson City team by voting to suspend any player who participates in a non-pro or semipro tournament.

League officials said this will eliminate almost all the players on the Jefferson City team because they are playing the Northern Missouri Semipro playoffs.

At least two other players apparently are affected.

The action was taken at a board meeting which preceded the league's annual all-star game Wednesday night.

The suspensions are for the duration of the 1960 baseball season and also cover post-season and playoff games.

Says Hitting, Trust Are Big Factors

DETROIT (AP) — The man who has nearly half of Kansas City's victories claims his team's hitting and his manager's confidence have been major factors in the major leagues' winningest record.

Bud Daley hiked his record to 12-4 Wednesday night by beating the Detroit Tigers 6-4, scattering six hits. He has a 3-0 mark against the Tigers.

The Tigers had him on the ropes four times. Each time he weathered the storm.

The Athletics raked Frank Lary and Clem Labine for 11 hits.

"This is a lucky year for me," said Daley, who won 16 games for the A's last season. "Every time I pitch—almost, anyway—the guys seem to get a lot of runs. The other day I won an 11-10 game, and not long ago I won a 10-6 game."

Manager Bob Elliott had someone throwing in the bullpen practically every inning.

"There were times when I would have taken him out if they got one more solid hit," said Elliott, "but he's a pitcher you have to give a lot of consideration before you take him out. In addition to his ability, he's one of the greatest players I've ever known."

"He played under me in the Pacific Coast League for a while, and I learned about him in a hurry. He's a guy you know is giving you 100 per cent, and more. He fields his position well and he knows the hitters."

The seventh-place Athletics have a 28-45 record, and Elliott won't let himself think where the club might be if the veteran south-paw weren't such a stopper.

Qualifying Rounds Saturday, Sunday For Country Club Meet

Men golfers of the Sedalia Country Club will play qualifying rounds Saturday or Sunday for the annual match play championships.

In addition to the championship place, there will be flights A, B and C.

The low 15 qualifiers will go into the championship race along with Van Van Dyne, defending champion.

The rules of the USGA will apply, and the ball will be played as it lies.

Those entering the tournament are requested to announce their intention of playing in the qualifying rounds to the club professional, Norman Scotten. The qualifying rounds will consist of 18 holes.

Whence It Came

The expression "to make one the goat" comes from the word "scapegoat." Under Biblical law, the sins of the people were placed upon the head of a goat, which then was permitted to escape into the wilderness, thus absolving the people from their wrongdoing.

Rowers Begin 3-Day Battle On Onondaga

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The rowers, probably the most anonymous and most dedicated athletes in American sports, today began a three-day battle on Onondaga Lake for the right to represent Uncle Sam in the Rome Olympics.

A record field of 76—two more than in 1956—was entered in the seven events of the Olympic trials during the day.

The winners of today's heats with a few exceptions, qualify for the Friday semifinals. Four crews will comprise the final field in each event Saturday.

The spotlight was on the more glamorous two of the seven events—the eights, in which California and Harvard were favored, and the single sculls in which Navy Lt. Harry Parker was the sculler.

Four years ago in Australia, the U.S. won three championships, two seconds and one third.

California, winner of the Syracuse-IRA and Harvard's veteran sweepswimmers, were rated just a shade over Cornell's two crews, Navy's varsity and unbeaten plebes, Washington, Pennsylvania, Brown, Syracuse Alumni Rowing Assn., the Detroit Boat Club and Union Boat Club of Boston.

The short distance makes it an event almost any crew can win. All races in the trials were over the Olympic distance of 2,000 meters (1 1/4 miles).

Three heats are booked in the eight-oared competition and the first two in each heat qualify for the semifinals.

Under the revised draw, the 12 were matched this way:

First Heat: California, Cornell "A" (varsity), Brown, Union Boat Club.

Second Heat: Harvard, Navy "A" (varsity), Detroit Boat Club, Cornell "B" (junior varsity).

Third Heat: Pennsylvania, Washington, Syracuse Alumni, Navy "B" (plebes).

Jack Kelly, Jr., brother of Princess Grace of Monaco, has shifted from single sculls to double sculls in an attempt to make the Olympic team for the fourth time. He and his partner, Bill Knecht of the Vespa Boat Club of Philadelphia, won the Pan American title.

Conley (5-4), who also pitched two perfect innings of relief for the victory, hung the Braves' third straight defeat on reliever Don McMahon (2-6) with his second home run in the majors.

Tony Gonzalez also homered for the seventh-place Phils, off Bob Buhl in a two-run first inning. The Braves, who pulled off the NL's first triple play in two seasons, got a Homer from Joe Adcock, but blew a 5-4 lead behind reliever Ron Piche on B. G. Smith's tying fielder (3-8).

Williams (8-2), named to the All-Star team today, cracked his second major league home run in the fourth inning for a 4-0 lead against loser Billy O'Dell (3-8).

Rich Woman Wants Career As Actress

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Why should one of America's richest women want a career as an actress?

"Because I love it," says Dina Merrill. "Because it's a challenge. Because I think it's good for me and good for my family."

Dina's father is E. F. Hutton. Her mother is Mrs. Merrileather Post of the cereal family. Her husband is industrialist Stanley Rumbough Jr.

"I used to have a great problem convincing producers that I really wanted to work," Dina admitted. "I think I am finally winning them around to the fact that I am serious."

The fact is that she is as enthusiastic about her career as any struggling starlet. She has been parlaying one important film after another—from "Operation Petticoat" to "The Sundowners" to "Butterfield 8." Now she's here to play Burt Lancaster's wife in "A Matter of Conviction."

Dina is the mother of three growing youngsters. I asked how an international film schedule fitted in with home life.

"Surprisingly well," she said. "If it didn't, I wouldn't do acting. But I've been lucky. Even though I've had to come out here and go to Key West and Australia for pictures, I've never had any really long absences from home."

"I think it's good for all of us. I think families should take vacations from each other now and then. When I come back, my children appreciate me more."

"I'm more appreciative of what I've got, too. When I go back, I realize again how handsome my husband is and how nice my children are."

"My husband doesn't seem to mind my working. In fact, after I've been home a few weeks, he realizes what it is to have a bundle of nervous energy on his hands. He asks me if I couldn't go find an acting job somewhere."

Safest City Loses Its Title; Records Two Traffic Fatalities

ROCKWOOD, Tenn. (AP) — The six-year safety record of the town that advertised itself as "Tennessee's safest city" has been broken.

After 2,197 consecutive days without a traffic fatality, Rockwood posted two in one day. Edna M. Jones, 85, died Wednesday of injuries received Tuesday in an automobile collision. And Patty Ann Reece, 20 months old, was killed when the car driven by her father, Chap Reece, was struck by a passenger train.

This city with a population of 4,265 located 50 miles west of Knoxville marked up its last traffic death in March, 1954.

Convict Returns From Trip; Walked Away From His Road Gang

OCALA, Fla. (AP) — A convict walked away from a Marion County road gang Feb. 29 where he was doing time for driving while drunk and having no driver's license.

Marion County authorities next heard from Roy Stewart, 35, when he was picked up in Louisiana for a minor infraction. He asked for extradition to Florida but Marion officials declined to start proceedings.

Then, Stewart offered to come back if money was sent for his bus fare. No money was sent.

Tuesday, Stewart walked into the county jail. He had hitchhiked back.

Civil Rights Plank Sure To Get Dixiecrat Censure

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Advocates of a bolder federal approach to civil rights proposed today a plank certain to draw bitter opposition of Southerners on the Democratic convention platform.

Related organizations—joined together as the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights—joined hands to lay the explosive issue before the party platform drafters.

The plank called for strong action by the federal government to guarantee equality to all Americans in voting, education, employment, housing and other areas.

Two Southern senator members of the committee—Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina and Spessard L. Holland of Florida—declared their intention to battle against broadened federal activity in this field.

The recent outcropping of sit-in strikes at lunch counters was injected into the committee proceedings by the civil rights group and by a Southern Negro lawyer, the Rev. Martin Luther King.

The leadership conference declared these strikes—which it said have been engaged in by Negroes and whites alike—have given the nation a sharp reminder that the pace toward equality has been too slow.

The Rev. King demanded that the convention endorse the sit-in strikes as a "great, peaceful movement" to gain racial equality.

Efforts were being made behind the scenes to head off a battle within the committee—and possibly the convention itself—over the issue that has plagued recent Democratic conventions.

Carl Rice, veteran Kansas Democratic leader and platform committee member, suggested that the party's 1956 civil rights plank be dusted off and revised in the light of recent developments. He said it should carry a promise that a new Democratic president would provide more positive leadership in this field than he said has been shown by President Eisenhower.

The 1956 plank pledged the party to continuation of efforts to eradicate racial discrimination in all sections of the country, but rejected proposals for use of federal force to bring this about.

Lowlights From Convention Show Sparkle, Glow

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Convention lowlights:

Attention Alaska and Hawaii! The big flag flying from the Biltmore Hotel, site of Democratic headquarters, is of the old, 48-star variety.

Workers are still working like ants around the Sports Arena, where the convention proceedings will be held starting Monday. General consensus is they'll never get it off the ground. Want to bet?

Democratic orators will have no need to fumble for words. The podium has three peep-holes which lead to mirrors which will reflect TV tubes which will carry their texts on a closed-circuit TV channel.

CBS is grinning happily, having sold its TV coverage to a single appliance maker months ago. NBC is breathing a little easier, having peddled 10-12ths of its air time. ABC is smiling bravely, being 75 per cent sponsored. The latter two hope to be sold out by the Monday start.

It wouldn't be Los Angeles without them. The religious zealots have made their feelings known with placards in front of the Biltmore. One older seemed to be spear-heading the stop-Kennedy drive. His message: "Wisdom, one of man's great assets, comes with age — seldom below 55." Other slogans carry the general pattern of: Politicians, repenters do not like the 1956 plank, they probably would be willing to accept a modernized version of it for the sake of preserving party unity. But the Rice suggestion was rejected by the civil rights group.

Rep. Chester Bowles of Connecticut, platform chairman, said he probably would undertake drafting of a plank designed to placate both sides, insofar as that is possible. He has indicated, however, anything he writes would be a more sweeping proposal than the 1956 plank.

The civil rights proponents declared that "only by the fullest exercise of the powers of government" can racial equality be attained.

Speaking of delays in carrying out a Supreme Court mandate to eliminate racial discrimination in public schools, this group said the government cannot assume a posture of neutrality toward compliance with the court's order.

So far in the committee's open hearing on the platform, emphasis has been on domestic issues such as medical care for the aged, aid to education, domestic employment and economic growth and aid to agriculture.

Nevertheless the foreign policy issue — described by Bowles as the most important one facing voters this year — was brought to the fore Wednesday by Americans for Democratic Action.

Prof. Samuel H. Beer of Harvard University, national chairman of this group, called for a foreign policy that would give this country what he called a "relentless diplomatic initiative" in a drive to stabilize peace. He said a policy limited largely to deterrence of military action by communism was not enough.

This initiative should sincerely seek agreement with the Soviet Union to suspend nuclear testing. This would require, he said, action to bring China into the plan. It might become necessary, he added, to recognize the Communist regime in China and bring that country into the United Nations.

"At issue," he said, "is a foreign trade policy that will adequately safeguard the jobs of American workers and assure expansion of job opportunities in a growing economy."

Elvis to Drop Rock, Pick Up Fast Draw, Learn to Ride Horse

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Elvis Presley is going to drop the rock, pick up a gun and saddle a horse for his next movie.

This was disclosed Wednesday by a close friend who said, "the directors told Elvis he will have to do some good riding in the new movie. He also has to work on the fast draw."

Elvis reportedly will play the hero in a dramatic Western based on the story "Flaming Lance."

However, all indications were that Elvis hadn't begun practice. No gunshots were heard from his Graceland estate and recently he has roared about town astride a motorcycle.

Three Gunmen Stage Morning Bank Job

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Three gunmen held up the Cherokee State Bank today and fled with cash estimated by the bank president at between $30,000 and $40,000.

The trio waited for an employee to open the building and then followed him into the bank. They waited for nearly 45 minutes for the vault to open, meeting employees and others at the door as they came in.

Shortly before 8:30 a.m. the time lock turned, permitting entry. The gunmen ordered the cashier, William Jordan, to open the vault and one of them went in with Jordan.

After taking the money, they fled into the street.

Two of the men wore comic face masks. The other was heavily rouged and wore a fake mustache. All were described as in their 20s or 30s.

Crank Letter Upsets Negro Miss U. Vier

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A crank letter upset the Negro beauty queen; 15 semifinalists were selected in the Miss USA competition, but 16 walked out on the runway; an Iron Curtain entrant is scheduled for a belated arrival, and the Miss Universe beauty pageant is in the midst of its usual confusion.

From among 43 American contestants; queens from Alabama, California, Connecticut, Florida, Iowa, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Utah, and West Virginia, survived the first cut down.

They compete tonight for the title Miss U. S. A.

The winner goes against 43 foreign beauties for the Miss Universe crown Friday and Saturday night.

A Polish girl, who has been expected all week and was practically given up, is due in tonight and will still be able to compete. She is Marzenna Malinska of Cracow.

When the master of ceremonies announced the 15 semifinalists for Miss USA Wednesday night, an extra girl stepped out among the winners.

Bob Oliver, director of operations, frantically called "close the curtain!" Then Karen Eickermann of Littleton, Colo., who had misunderstood and thought her state was called, was led off to the dressing room. She was in tears, upset and embarrassed by her mistake.

The first American Negro to be a state winner and compete in the pageant — although there have been Negro contestants from other countries — Corrine Huff of Youngstown, Ohio, came through to the finals.

Just before the show began, Miss Huff received a letter. She read it and burst into tears. It took the combined efforts of many other contestants as well as pageant officials to calm her down enough to go on.

Afterwards, she explained that the letter was a vulgar, crank note and it upset her tremendously. She said it was mailed from New York.

New School Is Nearing Completion

Completion date for the new school building at Cole Camp, according to the agreement with the contractor, was scheduled for July 15. It seems that nearly all of the work inside will be done by that date.

According to the schedule, the kitchen equipment should be installed this week and also the bleachers and lockers. The new gym floor has been laid, sanded and given three coats of gym finish. Mrs. Jay Fajen, home on a visit with her family, painted the bluebird emblem on the gym floor.

The contractor should get the stage floor completed this week, and sub-contractors should finish laying the floor tile. The electrical work is nearly completed. Some plumbing work and painting remain to be done.

Work to be done outside the building includes additional painting of the building, grading of the ground, completion of the canopy, construction curbs, sidewalks, graveling the drives and parking area, and possibly some blacktopping.

Harman A. Scharhag, architect, was present at a board meeting on Friday afternoon of last week and advised with the board in regard to the grading to be done in front of the building. Following the afternoon session Mr. Scharhag entertained the following at the smorgasbord in Sedalia: R. J. Behrens, president of the board; H. R. Meyer, vice-president; Oliver Bockelman, R. A. Oelrichs, Rodney Tevis, John D. Friedly, board members; Henry T. Junge, secretary, and J. W. R. Agland, superintendent. After the dinner the group returned to school for another session on school business.

A special service was held Sunday at the Flat Creek Baptist Church, southeast of Sedalia, for the purpose of ordaining two new deacons, Ralph R. Thomas and Emmett L. Bohon Jr., Route 2.

The ordaining council was made up of deacons and pastors of the churches in Harmony Association. The Rev. Donald Boling, pastor of the church questioned the candidates.

Miss June DeWitt sang a special number, and the Rev. John Steele of Smithton delivered the sermon. Opening and closing prayers were led by Rollie Thomas and E. L. Bohon, Sr., fathers of the two young men.

Low - Calorie Cantaloupe Treat

"Cantaloupe on the Rocks" is as intriguing as it sounds. California midsummer cantaloupe, chilled and filled with jellied consommé, makes an exciting and refreshing combination for summer eating. Serve it either as a first course for dinner or as a low-calorie salad "for the ladies." The sour cream topping is optional; for those who like sour cream, it adds a gourmet touch. Elegant as this looks, it takes only a few minutes to prepare.

Cantaloupe on the Rocks

Chill 2 or 3 California midsummer cantaloupes and 1 (10 1/2 ounce) can consommé. (Consommé must be chilled 4 to 6 hours, so it jells.) Halve cantaloupes and remove seeds. Salt fruit lightly and heap cavity with jellied consommé. Serve with wedges of lime. Pass commercial sour cream for a topping, if desired.

Doing Little Necessary Jobs

Vast Volunteer Forces Behind Convention Scenes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Far beyond the glare of spotlights and the blare of trumpets, a vast army of volunteers will be scurrying like a horde of happy, hungry and helpful ants of the 1960 Democratic convention.

No one has counted them out there must be hundreds if not thousands of volunteers—doing a variety of chores ranging from licking stamps to finding hotel rooms for delegates.

They range in prominence from Marlon Brando, who will sing with other Hollywood stars in a choral group at the final session, to Judy Selmont, 23, grade school teacher and volunteer hostess.

If the party had to pay for all the man-hours the volunteers do, the Democrats would be broke before the convention started, one party official commented.

With talents ranging from chauffeuring to just looking pretty, the volunteers have little in common besides an enthusiasm for hard, pay-less work.

The Democrats have so many volunteers they had to set up a committee just to keep the eager amateurs from running into each other.

"Most of them are college students," said Carole Lasher, co-chairman of the volunteers committee. "But the ages vary from 11 to 77. They're willing to do any old thing but most of them have had no experience."

Among the rejected applicants was a stilt-walker who wanted to publicize the convention by walking around town on stilts.

Another was a mule driver, who

Peachy Summer Eating

On really hot days, make supper an easy sandwich meal, broiling beefburgers right on the buns. Thin patties cook without turning. No difficult scouring job on the broiler pan! Strips of cheese across the tops dress up the burgers a bit, and taste good, too. Broiled canned cling peach halves, sprinkled generously with lemon juice and chopped mint, sparingly with sugar, are perfect for eating with hamburgers, and they both cook happily in the same pan. Canned cling holds their shape when heated . . . and the heat brings out their summery fragrance and flavor. Eat the burgers open-faced style, but count on two to a customer!

Broiled Burgers and Peaches

Drain 8 canned cling peach halves. Sprinkle generously with lemon juice and chopped mint, lightly with sugar. Mix together 1 pound ground lean beef, 1 teaspoon salt, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon each powdered onion and chili powder, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon black pepper. Split 4 hamburger buns in half and toast under broiler. Spread with butter and prepared mustard, then spread beef evenly over buns, covering edges well. This makes a thin covering but is ample since both tops and bottoms of buns are covered with meat. Arrange buns and peaches on broiler pan; broil until meat is browned. Place strips of cheese across buns and heat a minute longer, until cheese melts. Makes 4 servings.

Fine Line Between Church And State Is Questioned

By TOM HENSHAW

AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Are some people drawing the line too fine between church and state?

Methodist Bishop William T. Watkins thinks so.

Bishop Watkins, president of the Methodist Board of Hospitals and Homes, recently took issue with those who look askance at government assistance to church hospitals.

First of all, he said, it's not against the law.

"Only one religious act is denied to Congress by the Constitution," he said. "It may not engage in any act which looks toward establishing a state church. That, and that alone, is prohibited."

Now does it violate any moral principle, said the bishop.

"Generally speaking, a moral principle is self-evident and self-validating. For example the moral principle that men ought always to speak the truth requires no explanation.

"Moral principles are like that, and anyone who would make a moral issue of accepting federal funds for hospitals or other institutions must state what moral principle is violated.

"Even casual examination of the matter will reveal no moral principle is applicable in this connection."

Furthermore, said Bishop Watkins, moral principles may demand on occasion church use of government money.

"Actually," he noted, "there is but one moral principle: Whatever helps man is good and therefore moral; whatever harms man is evil and therefore immoral.

"Those who have scruples about the use of federal funds must face this question:

"Which is the greater evil, to refuse federal aid and thereby have no hospital to relieve a desperate situation or to accept federal aid, thereby relieving suffering men and women, but sacrificing your scruples.

"Moral demand requires that we relieve suffering humanity."

Funds of a different sort are bothering E. S. James, editor of the influential Baptist Standard, weekly newspaper of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

He feels Southern Baptists failed dismally in their efforts to send relief to victims of the Chilean earthquakes last month. He has a remedy for the future.

"What Baptists need to do," he says, "is to dig deep in their own pockets and set up a huge charity fund to be used any day and every day wherever there is a real need."

He proposes that Southern Baptists "set aside no less than one million dollars per year for charity work" to be used "wherever they are needed in the whole world."

Editor James notes that Southern Baptists sent $7,500 to earthquake relief while Lutherans, Roman Catholics, Adventists and the Church World Service contributed $1,172,500.

"Too long," he says, "have we left it to the government and social agencies to do what the churches have been commanded to do."

"Actually," he noted, "there is but one moral principle: Whatever helps man is good and therefore

Record Operating Earnings Reported by Bigger Banks

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A majority of the nation's biggest banks today are reporting record operating earnings for the first half of 1960.

Yet neither the banks nor the customers who borrow from them are entirely happy.

The earnings reports, however, should please bank stockholders.

One by one, the big banks chalk up gains. In this they contrast with a number of industries that show earnings running behind those of the 1959 first half.

The Bank of America, the nation's biggest, reports first-half earnings 11 per cent over the same period last year, although deposits of the West Coast giant are down a fraction.

And while the banks enjoy the record profits because the interest rates are higher than a year ago and demand for loans unabated, they fret because they haven't more funds to lend.

Their chief complaint is the in-

Save Calories At Lunchtime

Technically, a beanpole is a long thin stick, designed to accommodate growing beans. By extension, it is also a long thin person. A Beanpole Fizzer is a long thin drink, designed to accommodate growing boys and girls. Or, if you make it with non-fat dry milk, it will accommodate those who want a tall chocolate drink without too many calories.

The Beanpole Fizzer somewhat resembles that old New York favorite, the egg cream, a beverage which won distinction by containing neither eggs nor cream. It is, in effect, a chocolate ice cream soda without ice cream. The excellent chocolate flavor can be introduced instantly with powdered chocolate mix, which dissolves immediately in liquid to make good-tasting chocolate drinks of all descriptions. It also offers good nourishment, as it is fortified with Vitamins C and D and iron.

Whole milk or non-fat dry milk—take your choice—gives the Beanpole Fizzer its substance, sparkling water gives it the right to be called a fizzer, and a little honey adds originality to the flavor.

Assuming you want a beanpole, or limited calorie, lunch, serve your Beanpole Fizzer with a "separates" salad. Arrange mounds of shrimp, cottage cheese, and raw vegetables in a bowl or on a platter and let everyone do his own assembly job. Salad dressing is optional. You can buy a number of low-calorie dressings, should you desire one, and some people will prefer their separates salad plain, or with a squeeze of lemon juice.

At any time of day, a Beanpole Fizzer will go over well with the beanpole crowd—the teen-agers who look as if they could consume a skyscraper without gaining a pound. In that case, bring on the whole milk, and give them as many calories as possible. You may be sure the next round of tennis will burn up the calories at once.

Beanpole Fizzer

Pour ½ cup water into tall glass. Stir in ½ cup non-fat dry milk. Add 1 tablespoon honey* and 2 heaping teaspoons chocolate-flavored mix; mix well. Fill with sparkling water. Stir till foamy. Serve at once. Yield: 1 serving.

*Or substitute 2 tablespoons maple-blended syrup or 1 tablespoon light molasses.

If You Can Berries
Gather berries in shallow boxes, pans or baskets to prevent crushing and bruising. Use the smaller, softer, less perfect berries to make juice or puree.

Cold Pack—Wash and drain the berries. Pack to ½ inch of jar top. Shake while filling for a good pack. Cover with boiling medium syrup. Remove air bubbles. Wipe top of jar. Adjust lid. Process pints 10 minutes and quarts 15 minutes in a boiling water bath.

Another method is by hot pack. Wash, drain and pour into flat bottomed, shallow pan with well fitted lid. Add from ¼ to ½ cup sugar to each quart of berries. Heat to boiling point, shaking pan to prevent sticking. Pour into jars, filling to ½ inch of the top. Remove air bubbles. Adjust the lid. Process pint jars 10 min-

Be An Angel - Make Coconut Pie

Your reputation as a cook will soar to the clouds when you make this heavenly pie! Cloud-like in texture, and divine eating, too—this is a dessert that is bound to become a top favorite with all. Try it as the perfect ending for a "down-to-earth" meal of meat, potatoes, and vegetables.

Coconut Cloud Pie

2 cups milk	1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt	1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup uncooked cream of rice cereal	1/2 teaspoon almond extract
2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine	1 1/2 cups (about) flaked coconut
2 egg yolks	2 egg whites
	1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell

Heat milk and salt in top of double boiler. Sprinkle in cream of rice cereal and cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Cover and continue cooking 10 minutes. Cool slightly.

Combine butter, egg yolks, and 1/4 cup of the sugar. Add vanilla, almond extract, and coconut. Combine with the slightly cooled rice cereal. Beat egg whites until stiff, gradually beating in remaining 1/4 cup of sugar. Fold into the coconut-cereal mixture. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake in moderate oven, (375°F.) about 45 minutes, or until lightly browned. Serve warm or cooled to room temperature.

On Optimist Program

Snakes and More Snakes Are Discussed at Meeting

An unusual and interesting program on snakes was given Tuesday noon at the meeting of the Optimist Club at Bothwell Motel by John Hart, Steve Cramer and Philip Donaldson of the Missouri Conservation Commission, who exhibited live snakes.

Hart explained that the purpose was to familiarize the people of Missouri with snakes that they might know the poisonous and non-poisonous varieties. He stated that this year there would be an exhibit of snakes at the Missouri State Fair in the Conservation building.

The first snake shown was a diamond back which is poisonous and which is found in Oklahoma, but rarely comes into Missouri. The two poisonous fangs work like hypodermic needles and three to five drops of the poison into the blood stream will kill anybody. Sometimes there are up to 20 drops. A poisonous snake will have vertical eye slits, Cramer said, and all poisonous snakes have a rattle on their tails. It takes about two days to grow new fangs if the fangs are in some manner left in something where the snake has sunk them.

If you hear a rattle, he said, run in the opposite direction. A snake can only travel from five to seven miles an hour so it is easy to outrun him. Cramer showed a suction cup and said that in case of a snake bite, make a tourniquet above and two incisions over the fangs an eighth of an inch deep, no deeper, and use the suction cup. A deeper incision will spread the poison. If you have no suction cup, he stated, it is all right to suck the poison out with the mouth providing there are no sores in the mouth.

The snakes keep their tongues going all the time, Cramer explained, because the sense organ is in the mouth. If a snake is held by the tail, he said, there is no way for it to come up.

The water moccasin, Cramer said, has eyes on either side of its head and will bite under water. The cotton mouth water moccasin is so called because it opens wide its mouth which is white inside. The copperhead gets its name from its color. Any snake can swim but many of them are found in fields or along bluffs. These are beneficial to farmers because they kill field mice and rats. The life span of a snake is usually ten to 12 years. Invocation was by Gerald Cecil.

Sweet Red Cherry Pie Draws Raves

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Americans, known for what has been called an "inordinate admiration of pie," have neglected a luscious member of this branch of the dessert family.

When sweet red cherry time rolls around, the bright and beguiling small fruit hardly ever finds its way into a pie plate.

Are our cook books, because they rarely give recipes for pies made from the fresh dark-red cherry, responsible for this lamentable oversight?

Let the English have their sweet cherry tarts (made in large flat rings) and the French their elaborate tarts (made from puff pastry or kneaded dough). There's nothing like an American open-face sweet cherry pie with the fruit gleaming between strips of golden-brown pastry.

Although lattice tops for our open-face pies are sometimes woven, we find it easy and quick to place the strips straight across the filling in one layer. Use a pastry wheel to cut the strips and you'll have an attractive pinked effect. Don't forget that brushing the top pastry with heavy cream or egg yolk diluted with a little water helps the pie achieve a mouth-watering golden color.

If you have no pastry canvas you can use a sturdy firmly-woven (part linen) towel for rolling out the dough. Rub flour onto the towel just as you would onto a canvas. Keep one or two of these towels just for this purpose so that they retain their firm texture.

DUTCH CHERRY PIE

Ingredients: Pastry for 2-crust (lattice top) 9-inch pie, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, 1 to 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 1/4 cup orange juice, 3 cups halved pitted dark sweet cherries, 2 eggs.

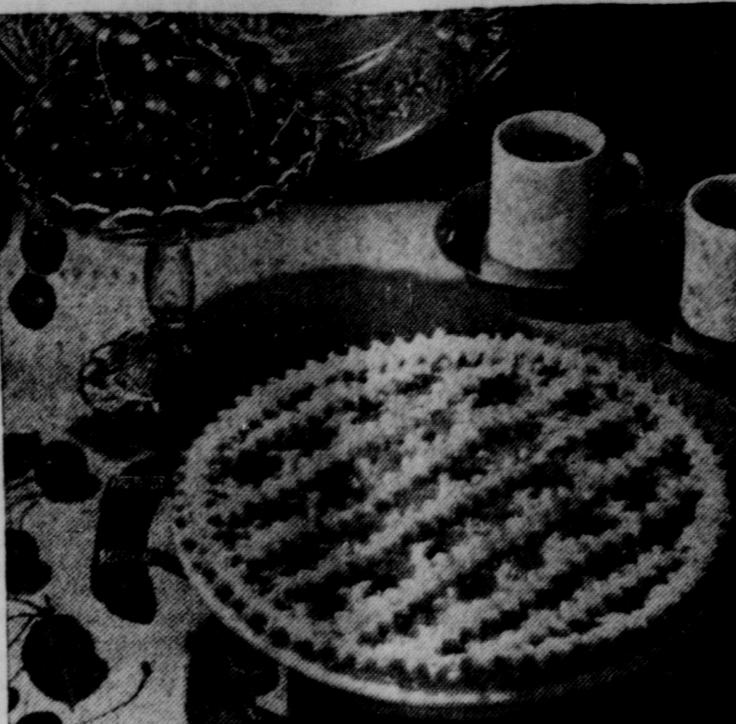

Method: Line pie plate with pastry. Mix together thoroughly the sugar, flour, grated lemon rind and grated orange rind. Add lemon juice, orange juice and cherries. Beat eggs just enough to combine yolks and whites. Stir into cherry mixture. Turn into pie shell. Roll out remaining half of pastry, with pastry wheel cut strips 1/8 inch thick and long enough to fit across pie plate. Arrange over cherry mixture to edge of pie plate rim; cut off any overhang. With fork, crimp edge. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven for 40 to 45 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Pacificific View Gets Adams in Middle Of KC Controversy

KANSAS CITY AP—Robert T. Adams, his wife and their five children are caught in the middle of controversy over Adams' pacificific beliefs.

Adams resigned as pastor of three congregations of the United Church of Christ in Buffalo, N. Y., after Mayor H. Roe Bartle appointed him executive secretary of the Kansas City Human Relations Commission.

The family arrived in Kansas City Monday and Adams reported at City Hall Tuesday. He learned he couldn't be sworn in until Mayor Bartle works things out with the City Council.

The council must authorize payment of Adams' salary and some councilmen are objecting because of his beliefs.

A former Navy officer, Adams resigned from the service because of conscientious objections to war. His 33-year-old wife, Ann, said they decided to stick it out in Kansas City.

"We both have believed in non-violence and in working for peace since we were first married," she said.

"It comes as a great surprise to us that people can get so upset over this out here. In Buffalo the woman who handled the type of work Bob will be doing here is a pacifist and no one ever questioned it.

The family is staying in the home of friends who are away on vacation.
